

Fawcett Street: Boarding Taking Place on All Floors

Final formation of the individual apartments being finalised in

Sunderland city centre

The boarding of the partition walls is now taking place across all floors at Sunderland's newest residential apartments conversion.

Following the latest developer update earlier this month, all stud walling has been installed across the building and the insulation and boarding process is in progress on each floor of the development.

Once the boarding process has been completed, the works are scheduled to progress to the finishes in each apartment, beginning with the ceilings before moving on to the flooring, joinery, bathrooms, and finally, the kitchens in each unit.

Additionally, all core works have now been completed throughout the building and all of the new windows for the building have been ordered.
